Construction Litigation Services

The Robert J. Lindquist, P.E., Inc. advantage:

More than 30 years of hands-on contractor and engineering experience and a thorough understanding of the impact which changes, plan errors and disruptions have on the financial and managerial aspects of running a construction company.

Our dispute resolution procedures, claims consulting and opinions are based on sound engineering and construction principals and thoroughly consider past, current and future impacts when arriving at our conclusions.

Extensive experience in all areas of construction disputes arising from such causes as delay, changed conditions, lost productivity, acceleration and wrongful termination.

Expert Witness

Provide support to counsel as consultant or testifying expert. Experienced in trial court proceedings and depositions on behalf of plaintiff or defendant. Prepare reports and exhibits for trial and assist counsel in settlement proceedings.

Claims Preparation and Support

When preparing or reviewing claims we review all documentation, plans, specifications and conduct detailed site visits when appropriate. Our analysis includes recommendations and the necessary supporting documentation in preparation of claim submittals. In addition, we provide conclusions and recommendations of costs presented in claims.

CPM Analysis

Review as-built schedules for entitlement, and prepare as-planned, impacted and un-impacted schedules. We make conclusions as to total delay and provide supporting schedules and documentation for presentation.
